

STOP THE WASTE
SAVE THE FOOD

In 2016, we provided over 86,000 meals to the most vulnerable and needy in our country by saving surplus food from being wasted. We are poised to be of even more service in 2017, by expanding into new areas and communities, and growing our network of donors and charities.

Spearheading these new initiatives will be our new General Manager, Tanushree Luthra. Tanu has a wealth of experience in social entrepreneurship and service to the community, and will support Nourish in achieving its mission of ending hunger by reducing waste. We welcome her to our team!

*Even if a quarter of the food currently lost or wasted globally could be saved, it would be enough to feed 870 million hungry people in the world!

Within all of us is the capability to make a magnificent contribution to the world; by observing some simple practices at home, with our families, we can each do our part to reduce food wastage and curb hunger.

Below are some helpful tips to encourage us to be mindful about purchasing and using food responsibly.
